BUSINESSMEN THRILLED BY SPEECH MADE

Members of Chamber of Commerce From All Provinces Rise to Cheer Premier of Saskatchewan

VALUE PRESENTED OF NORTHERN AREA

Feature of Day's Session Is Endorsement of Suggestion for Farmer-Manufacturer Council

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—From the summit of Grouse Mountain, high above the twinkling lights of Canada's Pacific gateway, Premier James G. Gardiner, of Saskatchewan, on Tuesday night sent forth a ringing message over the broad Dominion—a message of faith and a message of encouragement. When he concluded his address to the members of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, men and women from St. John, Halifax, from Montreal and old Quebec, from Toronto and the industrial cities of Ontario, men and women from the Prairie Provinces and from British Columbia rose and cheered him.

Premier Gardiner's call was for the people of Canada to rise to their greatest inheritance, their traditions, and on this firm foundation to set themselves to the task of rearing a superstructure such as destiny has planned. His plea was for the development of the northern portions of the Dominion where the very climate and nature of the country would breed a hardy and enduring race.

He pictured the development of the Dominion in the past and revealed the possibilities of the future. SUGGESTION ACCEPTED

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—Canadian business will accept the proposals of Premier John Bracken of Manitoba and will endeavor to co-operate with the agricultural interests for the betterment of Canada as a whole.

Business will do more. It will go more than half way to establish a spirit of friendliness and co-operation between the man on the land and the man in the city. This was declared by Mr. W. M. Birks, Montreal, executive chairman of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, in speaking at the morning session of the convention. He put it directly up to Mr. Bracken to make a move in the matter.

Mr. Birks was reviewing the aims and objects and the scope for national good of the chamber, and after telling of the opportunities that existed for setting up a FARMER AND MANUFACTURER

"Let me say, after the notable address last evening of the Prime Minister of Manitoba, that we base our entire programme on the chamber's recognition of the interdependence of agriculture and commerce. Agriculture is our primary industry. If the farmer fails, we all suffer. And if he succeeds, we all prosper. Prosperous farming attracts immigration, no matter how we preach it.

"We will go more than half way in accepting the Prime Minister's suggestion: first, a joint gathering of industry and agriculture. If he will tender the invitation, we here and now accept. Secondly, we urge an unprejudiced study of the tariff by the economic departments of our universities, and this we endorse to the full.

HON. GEO. A. BELL DIES

REGINA, Sask., Sept. 13.—Hon. George A. Bell, former Provincial Treasurer from 1912 to 1917, died here this morning aged seventy-one, a victim of diabetes.

Hon. Mr. Bell started life as a blacksmith and practiced that occupation both in Ontario, where he was born in 1856, in Brant County, and in the West, to which he came at the age of twenty-five. He was known best as chairman of the local government board from 1918 to last year, when he retired.

CYCLOONE AND TIDAL WAVE SWEEP CITY

Salina Cruz, on West Coast of Mexico, Is Wrecked by Storm and Deluged by Huge Waves Following

WHOLE TERRITORY SUFFERS SEVERELY

One Thousand Miles of Coast Swept by Tidal Wave—Captain of Ship Relates Experiences

NOGALES, Ariz., Sept. 13.—A cyclone of intense severity which whipped up a tidal wave believed to have extended over a thousand miles of coast line, last Wednesday, spread death and destruction over the west coast of Mexico.

The first information of the disaster reached this border town today. Messrs. reports to The Herald over a badly crippled communication line said that the death toll might reach into hundreds, while other hundreds, or possibly thousands, were left homeless, and shipping suffered severely.

Three of Mexico's seaports—Guaymas, Salina Cruz, and Manzanillo, are reported to have suffered heavy property loss, while two vessels of the National Line, the Jalisco and the Navajo, are missing. Mazatlan, fourth important west coast port, is believed to have been damaged least of all.

The storm, described as one of the worst hurricanes in the history of West Mexico, headed up the coast from the Gulf of Tehuantepec, Oaxaca, and swept northward as far as Guaymas, Sonora, within 300 miles of the American border. Territory several hundred miles inland, was reported affected.

Loss of life and property, concerning which no exact information was available, is supposed to have been heavy at Salina Cruz in the State of Oaxaca. Dispatches relayed from Guaymas said that half of the Oaxaca city was swept away by the cyclone, and that damage was augmented by giant combers which crashed through the town. As the waves, estimated to have been twenty-five feet high, swept back into the ocean, wreckage from broken buildings was carried into the sea and swept back again.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—The hurricane which swept the west coast of Mexico for three days last week was one of the worst ever experienced in that district, said a wireless message received by the Panama Mail Steamship Company from Capt. Charles J. Holland, master of the liner City of Panama, late today.

The message stated that the City of Panama had arrived back in Mazatlan undamaged and was anchored in the roadstead and that the backwash of the storm was washing over the breaker. The storm, however, had passed.

The liner Corinto of the Panama Mail Line was ordered to proceed with all speed to Mazatlan to render assistance. Both the City of Panama and the Corinto are equipped with hospital wards.

NEGLECTED FIRE LEADS TO SUIT

Judgment Given Against Company for $145—Did Not Fulfill Terms of Permit

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—In default of appearance of either defendant, Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in Supreme Court today awarded the Attorney-General for British Columbia judgment against the Trincomalee Packing Company and Edward Charles Fick for $1,805, being expenses incurred by the forest fire in fighting a thirty-acre bush fire on Galiano Island during the summer of 1926.

The Attorney-General was represented by Mr. A. H. J. Swenicki. A ten-day permit was, on June 20, 1926, issued by the forest branch to defendant company for burning brush and slash on a half-acre near Montague Harbor, Galiano Island, according to statement of claim.

FIRE NEGLECTED—Due to alleged negligence of defendants, the fire spread over thirty acres and was not extinguished until July 22, it was pleaded. Blame was attributed to defendants' failing to comply with the terms of the permit, which required the holder to employ two men for safeguarding the fire and not less than five men for suppressing the blaze.

It cost the forest branch $1,805 to fight the outbreak, and the sum included $1,144 for wages. A conviction was recorded against Colonel Fick on July 29 at Ganges by Justices of the Peace W. E. Scott and E. Walter, for his omission to employ five men to fight the fire.

Plot in Mexico—MEXICO CITY, Sept. 13.—General Jose Dominguez Amador, former director of the Mexican military academy, and Jose Guadalupe Granados, former chief of the secret service during the Huerta regime, were arrested tonight on charges of plotting to kill former President Obregon. The police refused all information regarding this case.

VICTORIA ARTIST IS OUTSTANDING

Mr. Eric Brown, Director Canadian National Gallery, Ottawa, Praises Miss Carr's Work

High tribute to the work of a Victoria artist, Miss M. E. Carr, was made yesterday by Mr. Eric Brown, director of the Canadian National Gallery of Art at Ottawa, who arrived in the city on Sunday.

"You have here in Victoria one of the most interesting painters in the whole of Canada. Miss Carr's work is quite extraordinarily good, as good as anything that is being done in the country, and I am trying to arrange for her to send us a large exhibition of her pictures to show in the National Gallery at Ottawa," Mr. Brown told a Colonist reporter in the course of an interview which he gave at the Empress Hotel where he, together with his wife, Mrs. Maud Brown, will be lecturing on art, is a guest until this afternoon.

Mr. Brown's present trip across Canada is being made by very much the same route as his last trip five or six years ago, as he is studying the art demands and progress of art throughout the country. Incidentally he is quite pleased with the headway which is being made. General interest in pictures is greater, and public taste is more developed than it was when he last crossed Canada; and there has been a notable increase in the number of galleries and art schools. In addition to this, of course, there has been a development in the number of travelling exhibitions which is taking pictures to many more people than before.

More than 100,000 persons were on hand to welcome the flyer. Five thousand hailed the visitor as he swooped down on the landing field after executing a series of aerial gymnastics over the city. Twenty-five thousand more cheered him when he appeared in the University of Washington stadium to urge national airport development, and a crowd estimated at 120,000 thronged the streets of the city as Colonel Lindbergh drove at the head of a four-mile parade.

The transatlantic flyer left Spokane at 8:44 this morning in company of an escort plane, and headed his "Spirit of St. Louis" across the mountains for Seattle. Weather bureau and aviation officials had advised him to take the longer and more southerly Columbia River route.

KFT COURSE THROUGH FOG—Although he soon became separated from his escort plane in the heavy fog and clouds, Colonel Lindbergh kept to his course and again demonstrated his ability to navigate through country unfamiliar to him. The escort plane, which was due to precede the "Spirit of St. Louis" into Seattle by half an hour, arrived here an hour behind schedule.

Tonight Colonel Lindbergh was the guest of honor at a business men's banquet and gave his second address of the day. He prepared to retire early and will leave for Portland tomorrow morning.

PRIDE OF DETROIT LANDS NEAR TOKIO

TOKIO, Sept. 14.—The round-the-world monoplane Pride of Detroit landed at the Kasumigaura naval station, forty-two miles northeast of Tokio, at 3 p.m. (Japan time). The monoplane left Omura, in Southwest Japan, at 6:35 a.m.

IRISH FREE STATE VOTES THURSDAY

DUBLIN, Sept. 13.—President Cosgrave, head of the Free State Government, in a statement issued tonight urges the people to give a clear decision at the general elections next Thursday. He asks for an honest decision upon the real issue—maintenance of the treaty. The Government's opponents had stood in the past, he said, for rejection of Free State freedom, solely because it was not framed by the treaty; they had done their utmost to wreck it; they had boxed the compass of political promises during the past few months.

PLANE LEAVES FRIDAY FROM TOKIO OVER SEA

TOKIO, Sept. 14.—Edward F. Schlee and Wm. S. Brock, pilots of the round-the-world monoplane Pride of Detroit, today announced they expected to hop off near here for Midway Islands, half way across the Pacific, Friday.

HEAT BAKES VALLEY OF MISSISSIPPI

High Temperatures Continue Over Wide Region—Schools Close in City of St. Louis

CHICAGO REPORTS DEATHS FROM HEAT

Fire Plugs Opened in Congested Districts for Children's Benefit—Parks Open All Night

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—The vast Mississippi Valley baked under a hot September sun again today, the mercury soaring to within the shadow of 100 degrees in various sections.

Several deaths were reported and numerous schools were closed due to the heat. A temperature of ninety-six was reported over most of Illinois, Rockford, Moline and Aurora each reporting a record for September. St. Louis schools closed at noon due to the heat, and two deaths there were attributed to high temperature. Four deaths in Chicago were attributed to the heat and several persons were prostrated.

Park and municipal officials opened fire plugs in congested districts to permit children to enjoy "shower" baths, and parks and beaches were kept open all night.

WINNIPEG HOT

WINNIPEG, Sept. 13.—Many districts of Manitoba today sweltered in the torrid heat of midsummer weather, while others experienced light to heavy rainfall. Winnipeg was the hottest city in Canada with an official temperature of eighty-eight, while in downtown sections of the city the mercury climbed well above the ninety mark.

SEATTLE GREET COL. LINDBERGH

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY THOUSAND PEOPLE THROG STREETS TO CHEER

Exceptional Skill as Aviator Again Shown in Flight Through Fog From Spokane

SEATTLE, Sept. 13.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, conqueror of the Atlantic, tonight rested on the shore of the Pacific in his round-the-world flight for the promotion of aviation.

After flying through the treacherous Naches Pass of the Cascade Range in a fog so thick that he became separated from his escort plane, the New York-to-Paris aviator landed at Sand Point Field here from Spokane at 2 o'clock this afternoon, exactly on schedule.

More than 100,000 persons were on hand to welcome the flyer. Five thousand hailed the visitor as he swooped down on the landing field after executing a series of aerial gymnastics over the city. Twenty-five thousand more cheered him when he appeared in the University of Washington stadium to urge national airport development, and a crowd estimated at 120,000 thronged the streets of the city as Colonel Lindbergh drove at the head of a four-mile parade.

The transatlantic flyer left Spokane at 8:44 this morning in company of an escort plane, and headed his "Spirit of St. Louis" across the mountains for Seattle. Weather bureau and aviation officials had advised him to take the longer and more southerly Columbia River route.

SYNOD ALLEGES DISCRIMINATION

Attention Drawn to Comparative Number of Clerics Engaged as Immigration Agents

KINGSTON, Ont., Sept. 13.—From Saskatchewan has come a memorial to the General Synod of the Church of England, calling attention to the report that the Dominion employs twenty-five Roman Catholic priests, one priest of the Church of England, and one minister of the United Church as immigration agents. The memorial will be discussed some time during the synod sessions, which open here tomorrow.

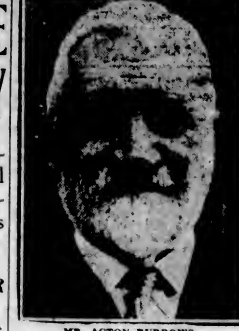

The memorial further calls attention to the census returns of 1921, which indicate the membership of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada as about 3,000,000. The combined membership of the Church of England, the Presbyterian Church of the United Church is shown as more than 4,000,000. In view of these respective church populations, the synod of Saskatchewan has called upon the general synod to go into the matter and ask the Minister of Immigration to "take steps to rectify this inequality" and that such action be taken in cooperation with the chief councils of the Presbyterian Church and the United Church of Canada.

SURGEON DIES IN EXPERIMENT

Dr. Sidney Rawson Wilson Is Found Dead in Laboratory With Anaesthetic Mask Over His Face

SOUGHT TO STUDY ANALGESIC STATE

MANCHESTER, Eng., Sept. 13.—Victim of his own scientific zeal, Dr. Sidney Rawson Wilson, surgeon and anaesthetist with a British and American reputation, was found dead tonight in his laboratory. His wife discovered the experimenter lying on the floor with an anaesthetic mask over his face before a machine which administered gas mixtures.

It had been Dr. Wilson's great ambition to obtain and prove the analgesic state, which is obtained momentarily when a person under an anaesthetic loses feeling yet remains conscious. Colleagues believe that he met death experimenting on himself to discover the actual effects of an anaesthetic, which it was his conviction was the only way to obtain essential data.

PLANE WRECK COMING ON SHIP

REMNANTS OF OLD GLORY PLANE TAKEN ABOARD GOVERNMENT STEAMER

Other Plane Wreckage Reported From Widely Separated Positions on Atlantic

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 13.—Wreckage of the transatlantic plane Old Glory has been hauled aboard the Government steamer Kyle and the boat is being taken to the vicinity searching for traces of the plane's crew, according to a radio message from the steamer today.

The Kyle, under charter to the New York Daily Mirror, whose managing editor, Phil Payne, was a passenger aboard the plane and director of the flight for William Randolph Hearst, the publisher, left here Saturday on a search for the plane and reported finding parts of its wreckage late yesterday.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The Daily Mirror tonight announced receipt of the following message from Douglas Muir, St. John's, Nfld., newspaperman, aboard the steamship Kyle, the vessel chartered by The Mirror to search for the monoplane Old Glory:

"Aboard Ss. Kyle, off Newfoundland. The wreckage of the Old Glory taken from a heavy sea consists of thirty-four feet of wing connected to the fuselage, fuel gauges and feed pipes connected to the tanks. A fourth tank is missing. The other three contained large quantities of gasoline when picked up.

"The engine and body of the plane evidently had been torn from the wings, leaving no trace of the control cockpit except one lever and speaking tube, located near the fuel gauges.

"The American flag painted on the right wing was clearly distinguishable, and traces of a corresponding flag were discernible on the left wing. A portion of one large, black, painted letter also showed on the right wing, in the shape of the letter 'V,' or possibly Continued on Page 6

Typhoon and Tidal Wave Devastate Japan Island With Dense Population

TOKIO, Sept. 13.—A typhoon and tidal wave combined today to cause heavy loss of life and property damage of immense proportions on the Japanese island of Kyushu. More than 100 persons are believed to have perished in Kumamoto prefecture and a report, impossible of confirmation owing to the disrupted communications, assert that 1,000 others died in one town near the city of Kumamoto. The storm, described as the most severe in decades, swept the prefectures of Kumamoto and Fukuoka with wind and waves, leaving death and desolation behind it. In Kumamoto 1,000 houses were inundated and destroyed, according to meagre reports.

British Empire Proves Puzzle To Foreigners

GENEVA, Sept. 13.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, at an informal gathering of international journalists here, was asked why Great Britain was unable to sign the protocol of 1924, and replied by referring to the British Empire as consisting of a number of autonomous states which were bound by common ties and he emphasized the fact that signing a protocol guaranteeing the nations against war was quite a different matter from signing a commercial treaty.

This explanation led to a discussion of the constitution of the British Empire and keen questions were asked by foreign correspondents who seemed almost unable to believe the Empire could hold together without a written charter.

Sir Austen replied: "If we had filled up all the fissures and loopholes in our constitution, the British Empire probably would no longer exist."

NATIVE SILVER HAS BEEN REPORTED

PRINCE RUPERT, Sept. 13.—Robert Stewart, of the Silverado Mining Company, Stewart, Portland Canal, who sailed this afternoon for Vancouver, brought word of a discovery of silver in the Silverado property, which is adjacent to the Premier Mines. The vein, according to Mr. Stewart, contains practically pure silver the size of a pea's egg. The discovery, he said, is very similar to what was found in the early days at Cobalt.

WOULD REMOVE C.P.R. STATION

Vancouver Town Planners Propose Union Terminal at Head of False Creek

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—That the Canadian Pacific Railway will, as the city grows, be forced to consider removal of its railway terminal from the Burrard Inlet waterfront, is a prophecy which town planners need never be ashamed to have made, said Mr. A. G. Smith, chairman of the City of Vancouver's planning commission, with reference to criticisms of a suggestion of W. D. Hudson, transportation engineer, that a solution of many of the city's terminal problems would be found in establishing a union station at the head of False Creek.

Mr. Smith points out that while Mr. Hudson advanced the suggestion as an ideal arrangement which has many practical objections, nevertheless it is likely that it will have to be considered when the increasing volume of port business will demand that the Burrard Inlet yards be reserved exclusively for serving the docks.

Mr. Smith suggested that within thirty years at least, the yards along the inlet will be too small to care for both ocean and land traffic. "In any case," remarked Mr. Smith, "we can make no plans for bettering conditions unless we start with an ideal. Mr. Hudson's suggestion is the ideal arrangement. Whether it is practical is what we are now engaged in finding out."

DISTILLERIES REPORTED UPON

Committee for Customs Commission Submits Recommendations Affecting Many Firms

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—The Royal Customs Commission will probably conclude public hearings tomorrow. The final sitting will mark the close of one of the most exhaustive investigations by royal commissions in recent years, if not in the history of Canada.

Today was devoted largely to clearing up matters in the hope of closing tomorrow. Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., counsel, laid before the commissioners his submissions with respect to the Canadian distilleries. Brief argument was offered by counsel for certain of the distilleries, and then the commission took the submissions under consideration. The decision of the commission with respect to them, as well as in regard to all other matters before the body, will appear in a report to the Governor-in-Council. The report may not be given out until Parliament meets.

FORMIDABLE LIST

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—A formidable list of submissions in respect of Canadian distilleries was laid before the Royal Commission on Customs here today by Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., nineteen distilleries located at various places in the Dominion were investigated. In the findings asked, specific mention is made of contributions for political and propaganda purposes by certain of the distilleries and the Commission is asked to state that these were illegal "and the directors of the companies so connected with thereby committed indictable offences."

Action is recommended to recover the amount of bonds given by distilleries in respect of evidence would indicate that false landing certificates have been furnished. Proceedings to collect arrears on sales tax is recommended, but Mr. Rowell made it clear that these have already been taken in many cases and that there have been recoveries.

Almost every leading distillery in the Dominion is cited.

"Johannesburg is the centre of the Witwatersrand gold fields, where the gold is produced. In these fields there are sixty miles of practically continuous mines. The deepest shaft in the world is there, having 7,200 feet depth."

"South Africa also produces 80 per cent of the world's diamonds. Both the gold and the diamonds I mention are produced in British territory, Rhodesia, which I am representing at the Congress, although only a new country, having had responsible government only from 1925, is now turning out a large percentage of the chrome of the world. Prosperity of Province Dates From Gold Rush

Empire Mining Congress Comes Today to City Which From Early Days Has Taken Keen Interest in Development of Industry

The city of Victoria will welcome this afternoon the Empire Mining and Metallurgical Congress, the most outstanding body in its profession that exists in the world. It is fitting that this body should visit the capital city of British Columbia, not only because of the fact that this is the capital of the greatest mining province of the Dominion of Canada but because the city of Victoria has been from the very beginning of things as a settlement on the western outpost of Empire very closely identified with the mining industry.

LOOKING BACKWARD
It was from this city that the great rush of gold seekers made their way to the Cariboo in the search for the precious metal that has always had such an allure for the human race. Victoria from its very infancy was identified with the gold rushes that characterized this western part of the Dominion. On the Island of Vancouver there have been placer fields, and the defunct camp at Leechford within a few hours of the capital was at one time the centre of a very considerable population engaged and maintained in the seeking for gold.

Goldstream, as its name implies, within a few miles of the city, also had its turn as an attraction to the seeker after new wealth that might be taken from the streams, washed down from the mountains, and separated by the slow process that Nature follows and made ready for the harvest of the prospector.

But from that time there has been on the part of residents of the city of Victoria a very strong attraction towards the mining industry, as it has been developed in all its branches. It is doubtful if in any other centre in the province there is at present more capital invested in the mining enterprises of the mineral province of the Dominion relatively than in the city of Victoria.

For years after the first lure of gold Victoria became the starting-out place from which the argonauts from all parts of the world made their way to the Cariboo fields. It was to Victoria that the miners and those otherwise interested in the industry came to spend their winters in many instances, and it was long the financial centre for the whole of the enterprises.

As the industry developed in other directions and in other lines of production Victoria continued to hold its interest in mining operations, and citizens of this centre were among the heavy investors in the various enterprises floated. It is a noteworthy fact that among old-time business men of this city there was a general disposition on the part of them all to lend their assistance in all possible to the promotion in the line of mining.

With the building up of other centres in the province and the facilitating of the means of communication in a world way, there has come the introduction into British Columbia of tremendously rich companies which have brought in large part the purely local interest that in early days surrounded British Columbia enterprises.

RETAINS INTEREST
But the capital of the province has not lost its interest in the mining operations throughout the whole of the province, and among its citizens are to be found large shareholders in practically every enterprise of this nature that has been organized. It is essentially a city that retains a deep interest in mining.

The visiting party, whose interests are world-wide, are now in the province of the Dominion that is pre-eminently a mining area. It is true that the Province of Ontario for a few years overtook this province in the matter of silver production and British Columbia was obliged to fall into second place statistically in this particular output. In the year 1926, however, this province overtook the eastern province with its rich cobalt area, and led all the provinces by a good margin in silver, as well as in other metalliferous production.

In the past year the production of silver in the Province of British Columbia was 10,748,536 ounces, valued at $6,675,606. There is every indication that the production in various lines of mineral output will in the year 1927 surpass by quite a considerable amount that of 1926.

In the metals that are of great economic value the Province of British Columbia is now in a position with its producing properties to make an excellent showing. The output of lead is at the rate of about 500 tons a day; that of copper is about 300 tons a day, and in zinc there is a production of about 150 tons daily.

The value of the mines to the province, and to the investing world at large, is shown by the fact that last year the dividends paid on the production alone amounted to well up to $10,000,000. It is estimated on a fair basis. The reported dividends paid by the larger companies represented $9,747,270. This was about three and a half millions more than in the preceding year; but in this amount there is not taken into account the fact that there are a number of privately owned projects and privately controlled companies that do not report the results of their operations, and which would bring the total up to the $10,000,000 mark easily.

TRAIL SMELTER
In this connection the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company at Trail has the proud record of giving the largest dividend returns to the shareholders of any similar enterprise in the Dominion. As a result of steady experimenting and careful research work, aided by the C.P.R. as a large shareholder, there has been developed a most wonderful enterprise there which the visitors have seen just recently on their trip westward. The dividend paid last year on this investment was $5,070,150.

But on the coast the visitors will have the opportunity in the next day or two to inspect the Britannia mine and mill, where the largest copper ore concentrator in the British Empire will be seen. The mill has a capacity of 4,100 tons a day. At the mine there is a reserve of some 6,649,556 tons of two per cent and over in copper.

In northern British Columbia are most interesting fields opened up in the vicinity of Stewart, Alice Arm and other camps along the coast. Then farther north in Atlin the former rich placer fields can be inspected which are still operated to some extent, and in other cases being utilized in the form of dredging. In this camp there is the renowned Engineer Mine, which is expected to continue to produce along rich lines.

STEWART CAMP
The Stewart camp has been very closely identified with the city of Victoria, inasmuch as many of the properties that have been developed there have been done on capital subscribed in this city.

AGENT-GENERAL DESCRIBES WORK

Hon. A. F. Pauline Addresses Kiwanis Club on Operation of B.C. House in London

"British Columbia House is the clearing house of social and commercial relations between this province and the Mother Country," declared Hon. A. F. Pauline, Agent-General for British Columbia in London, in an address before the Kiwanis Club at the Chamber of Commerce at noon yesterday.

Mr. Pauline described for the Kiwanians the work being done at British Columbia House, and stressed its importance in the development of this province.

Beginning his address, he expressed the pleasure it gave him to be back in Victoria again, remarking that he was afraid many Victorians did not realize to the full the advantages and beauty of their city.

The speaker described the exact location of British Columbia House and touched briefly on the history associated with the neighborhood.

As a result of reorganization, he said, the revenues of the institution had been increased to more than $70,000 last year, which was $10,000 more than the total for the most successful year previously.

Referring to the movement of emigrants to this country through British Columbia House, the speaker predicted that this year settlers of the better class would bring in capital amounting to $2,500,000. The settler with capital was coming to this country because the opportunities for his children were more numerous and varied here than in the Old Country.

British Columbia, Mr. Pauline declared, was well thought of in the Old Country. The province had a climate very much similar to that in England, but possessed the advantage of more sunshine. The vast natural resources of this country and the opportunities for a young man to succeed in life also acted as a magnet.

The movement of settlers to this country would gain in volume as the years rolled on, he said, adding that he had no doubt as to the brightness of the future awaiting both British Columbia as a whole and the city of Victoria.

Mrs. W. H. Wilson, gold medalist, of Vancouver, delighted the guests with a group of vocal solos. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Firth.

MASSACRE REPORTED IN HONAN PROVINCE

SECRETARY HAS ARRIVED HERE

Mr. E. P. Kemmer Looks for Attendance of 600 at the Pacific Foreign Trade Council Session

SKETCHES GROWTH OF ORGANIZATION

Among the first of the officials of the Pacific Foreign Trade Council to reach the city is the secretary of the organization, Mr. E. P. Kemmer, who has been identified with the body from its formation in 1921. He has taken up his quarters at the Empress Hotel, and from now on will be a very busy man in connection with the affairs of the convention.

At the same time Mr. Kemmer is congratulating himself that his work will not be as heavy as he might have expected it to be under the circumstances that this is to be the largest gathering under the Pacific Foreign Trade auspices that has yet been held.

This is due to the fact that the local arrangements he finds well in hand, and he warmly compliments Mr. C. P. W. Schwenger and Mr. George I. Warren, the chairman and the secretary, respectively, of the local committee in charge of the convention. These officials, together with the other members of the committee in charge of arrangements, says Mr. Kemmer, have done magnificent work, and the result is that he finds upon arrival on the scene that the arrangements are well in hand. The work of the local committee, he remarks, has been little short of wonderful, and there should be no reason why the business should not move along with the greatest ease.

"This will be the best convention that has yet been held," says Mr. Kemmer. "There are several reasons for this," he adds, "and not the least important is that the local committee have done so much for the convention."

The Pacific Coast is fast awakening to the importance of the commerce in the development of the territory that borders on the Pacific, he observes. The Pacific Ocean is rapidly coming into its proper place in the trade of the world, and this, in the opinion of Mr. Kemmer, is bound to increase as time goes on.

This is the first time that the council has met outside of the United States, and it is evident from the remarks of the secretary that this is being regarded as far from being any detriment to the convention.

OPENING FOR B.C.

"I can see nothing standing in the way of the Canadian Pacific province joining in the work of the council. There is nothing separating the ports of either side of the international line in a commercial way that should bar them from joining together in the discussion of trade problems," says Mr. Kemmer.

INTERCHANGE URGED

One thing which in the past had retarded the development of art appreciation in Canada was lack of transportation, lack of means of interchange of pictures. It would do much good if the East could see more of what was being done in the West, and if the West could see more of what was being done in the East.

Among the more recent additions of importance to the Canadian National gallery were mentioned a small Botticelli, "Christ and St. John," heads and shoulders only, but life-size, brought from London, originally procured from Germany, two Tintoretto's, one very fine painting by Paul Veronese, a beautiful painting by Bernardino Luini of the Lombard school, "Shipwreck," and excellent things from the brush of Antonio Moro, Sir Thomas Gresham, and others.

Indicating the great interest which the Ottawa people take in pictures, Mr. Brown stated that although the population of the Canadian capital is only 120,000, the attendance at the National Gallery last year was about 100,000. If Victoria supported her own art gallery to the same extent the attendance annually here would be about 35,000.

"Our little gallery at the Crystal Garden, which we visited yesterday, has the foundations for a very much bigger gallery," noted Mr. Brown, who thought that the present collection were supplemented from time to time by some of the fine pictures which the American Federation of Arts and the Art Directors Association of America is constantly sending out it would help to increase interest in the gallery here, Victoria had the organization in its hands, and they should they not be able constantly to show an excellent collection?

Mr. Brown will continue eastward after he leaves here this afternoon, visiting every place which has a gallery. Mr. Brown, however, is traveling independent of her husband from Victoria, as she has undertaken a lecture tour, giving her first this season tomorrow night at Vancouver, under the auspices of the Art School. She will lecture at Kamloops on September 20, and it is just possible that between these dates arrangements may be made for her to lecture in Victoria.

Mrs. Brown is a graduate of Cambridge University, and is a writer as well as lecturer on art. The lectures which she is offering on her present tour are under two headings: "The National Gallery of Canada," in which she tells of its history, activities, and possessions; and "Great Artists and the Intimate History of Their Times," this latter subject is presented in three lectures, each in itself complete, the first entitled "Art When Europe was Young," the second "When Italy Led the World in Art, Splendor and Learning," and the third "Painters as Diplomats." Each lecture is illustrated with slides.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

PRE-DISEASE CONDITIONS

We have heard so much about pre-war conditions that I feel the urge to call your attention to some pre-disease conditions, and thus assist you in preventing avoidable wars in your body. No acute disease comes on without due warning. Any more than war between countries starts without repeated warning of the impending disaster. As apparently sudden mobilizing of troops is the result of definite causes which could have been understood and avoided, so it is also true that the seemingly sudden onset of an acute disease is always understandable and preventable if studied in time. One does not instantly become sick with fever and chills, and the body is not abruptly thrown into the upheaval of an acute illness. Symptoms and warnings are constantly presenting themselves to you long before the actual condition of sickness shapes itself into a disorder which may be called by a special name. After disease reaches the state where the symptoms of fever and pain are present, the diagnosis is indeed simple enough. You call in your doctor and he can, after ascertaining your symptoms, give a name to the disorder.

It is far more important for you to study the pre-disease symptoms and thus prevent the actual sick spell. All acute diseases, if allowed to develop, are self-curative. However, the after-effects of these upsets leave the body battle-scarred and injured in ways that no amount of after-cure will remedy. While it is, of course, not wise to be on a constant look-out for trouble, it is also the height of folly to allow yourself to neglect to notice those plain pre-disease signs which always warn you of impending danger. If you feel sleepy after meals, perhaps you are eating more food than the body requires. Are you conscious of distress any place in the abdomen? Notice if this does not come from using too much food or food in improper combinations. Do you wake up more tired than when you went to bed? This is usually due to mental causes which tire you out more when sleeping than in waking hours. Chronic habits of destructive thinking are the principal causes of the waste of nerve force. Study all you can about psychology and the effect of the emotions upon the body for good or evil. Are you restless at night? This may be due to the same causes or to intestinal gas pressure against one of the vital organs. Does your heart beat hard enough for you to notice it while lying in bed? This is due to a stomach distended with too much food, or full of excessive gas. Do you require more than eight hours of sleep to refresh you? Sometimes this is because you have not taken enough physical exercise during the day. The laborer usually requires less sleep than the brain worker who does not supplement his mental activity with sufficient vigorous physical exercise.

Study out the cause of these simple forerunners of disease and you will find it an interesting and profitable way to learn how to avoid the more serious consequences of acute disease.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question—Loretta P. writes: "I am fourteen years of age and have developed a 'simple' goitre. Was advised by the school doctor to take a mixture of sodium iodide, but obtained poor results from the two bottles I used. Now everyone suggests rubbing iodine on the outside of my throat. Do you think my diet has been the cause of this goitre?"

Answer—The cure of simple goitre is simple enough through dieting, without the use of any medicinal preparations. You get all the iodine you need in a well-balanced diet, and it is much better for you in this organic form than the mineral iodine of drug preparations. Your goitre will quickly reduce in size if you will take a fast, using one kind of fruit on any one day and continuing with the fruit regime until your thyroid is practically normal in size. Then follow the daily menus which I arrange for you in the article as published, but leave out the starchy meals and substitute fruit.

Question—O. J. writes: "Am saving your articles and making a scrap book of them, but I lost the one which appeared a few days ago about the way to use starchy foods. How can I get this article?"

Answer—Any article which has appeared in this column will be sent to you if you will name the article, and send your name and address.

Question—George H. writes: "I have soft corns between my little toes which pain me very much. One doctor told me to use steel supports for my arches and another told me I did not have fallen arches, but should put something between the toes to separate them. I will appreciate your advice."

Answer—Soak your feet in hot Epsom Salts water for thirty minutes at a time twice daily. After about two weeks the soft corns will separate from the toes and can be easily taken out. Continue the hot water treatment for about a week at least once a day, massaging the feet afterwards with coco butter. Develop your arches by walking pigeon-toed part of the time when taking your daily walks.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—A piece of wreckage, painted a bright yellow and with several wires dangling from it, and thought to have possibly been a part of the monoplane Golden Eagle, missing Honolulu flight contestant, was sighted in the Pacific Ocean several hundred miles off Cape Flattery on September 1, by two members of the crew of the four-masted fishing schooner William H. Smith. Captain Gustav A. Schmidt, master of the vessel, today reported. The two seamen merely thought it was a piece of another fishing vessel, and made no attempt to pick it up.

NEW POSITION IS CREATED

Miss Mackenzie, Formerly With Royal Jubilee Hospital, Is Superintendent of Port Angeles Hospital

HOTEL ADAPTED FOR ENTERPRISE

Miss Jessie F. Mackenzie, for fifteen years connected with the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital at Victoria, has arrived in Port Angeles to become director and superintendent of the Port Angeles Clinic Hospital, formerly the Olympic Hotel.

Miss Mackenzie was director of nursing at the Jubilee Hospital, and for seven years during the war was superintendent of the same hospital. She furnished and equipped the new building for the Jubilee Hospital two years ago, and furnished and equipped the Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco, of which she was superintendent for six years.

INSTALLING ELEVATOR
An elevator shaft has been constructed in the lobby, and an elevator, five by seven feet, large enough to accommodate the wheeled stretchers on which patients are transported, is being installed. The advantage of its location is that ambulances can be transported from the Third Street entrance, a minimum distance, to the elevator, and the element of pain caused from handling or turning staircases is absent.

The elevator serves the two floors above the lobby, and wide hallways permit easy access to the sixty hospital rooms, forty of which have private baths.

MANY DEPARTMENTS
The hospital is to be divided into different departments, each being featured by special attention as to location and care of patients. For instance: A children's department, with ten junior cots, is located at the rear of the hospital on the second floor. Here the children can be placed in a group of rooms, with special friezes on the walls, and with private toilet and bath. The rooms lend themselves admirably to the plan and the children have an isolation from other patients and a companionship of their own.

A nursery is similarly located in another part of the building. It is on the same floor as the obstetric department, which is another feature of the hospital.

OPERATING ROOMS
Operating rooms are on the top floor facing the east. There are three rooms in the group, two for actual operating and a third for sterilization work, and a special steam sterilizer is en route from the East. The operating rooms will be fully equipped, have an abundance of light from the east, and are being entirely repainted and equipped.

DIET KITCHEN
There is a diet kitchen on the second floor where special foods are prepared. A shaft leads to the kitchen and trays are transported on a small elevator.

There will be a special surgical unit, and an eye, ear, nose and throat department.

It is understood Miss Mackenzie will at once establish an accredited nurses' school at the hospital, the full three-year course to be given there.

Dr. D. E. MacGillivray, Dr. Walter Taylor and Dr. Will Taylor will abandon their General and Rest-haven hospitals as soon as the new one becomes operative. The new hospital will accommodate 100 patients, and more in emergency. It will be standardized.

THEFT OF AUTOS TRACED TO BOYS

Thirteen-Year-Old Falls Into Trap Set by Police and Confesses His Guilt

The mystery of the disappearing cars has been solved by the city police. A thirteen-year-old boy has been taken in charge as one of the persons alleged to have participated in automobile thefts of recent dates. The boy has confessed to three offences. Chief of Police John Fry stated yesterday.

Police set traps at various city garages, and the boy fell into one of them either late Monday night or early yesterday morning. He entered the Victoria Garage and robbed it of one car and the cash register. He drove the car to the rock cut on Bay Street and there smashed the register, open and took the $1270 it contained, according to police information.

The chief also stated that the boy confessed to having stolen Mr. W. H. Creelman's automobile and having wrecked it on the Goldstream Flats. There are other boys in the hands of the police facing similar charges.

Columbia's labor shortage has become acute.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Bathe away your

Corns

You needn't suffer the throbbing, nagging pain of a corn one day longer. And you needn't resort to cutting or paring, which merely breeds the corn without removing the cause—the roots.

You can actually bathe away the worst corn with RADOX—easily and painlessly.

When you dip your feet into a footbath containing Radox Bath Salts, the dead skin of the corn combines with the Radox Salts to form a protein salt of the actual corn itself. This protein salt dissolves in the water, and so softens the corn that a few baths it may be lifted off bodily. Radox does not affect the living skin, but dissolves the corn.

CAPITOL Adolphe Menjou is THEATRE rapidly acquiring a reputation in film circles for discovering new talent and for creating opportunities for unrecognized talent that have given them tremendous impetus up the ladder of fame. In his latest Paramount comedy-drama, "Service for Ladies," Menjou introduces a new leading woman in the person of Kathleen Carver. While Miss Carver isn't exactly new to films this is her first big opportunity. According to critics who have seen her work she is achieving definite laurels for herself, indicative of the further successes to many Menjou heroines have won in the past. On the stage are offered two very entertaining vaudeville presentations, which include Mary Lou Treen and "Skeeter Hartwell," lady bugs from the "Bug's Invasion"; Fanchon and Marco's gorgeous stage presentation which played to capacity houses in Vancouver last week. The second offering is the Lady Harpists Trio Supreme, who have been held over for one more week in answer to the repeated demands of Capitol patrons. Their programme will be entirely new, and will embrace both popular and classical compositions.

COLISEUM Another surprise is in THEATRE store for the patrons of the Coliseum. The opening act is a wire-walking act that is very cleverly performed by Baby Olar, and is something of a novelty, as there has not been an act of this kind here for a long time. Following this comes Ralph

Reserved Sale for "Sensations of 1927" Opens This Morning

The sale of reserved seats for Charles George's marvelous musical revue, "Sensations of 1927," which is booked to usher in the road show season at the Royal Victoria Theatre Friday and Saturday nights, September 16-17, including a matinee Saturday, go on sale at the Royal Victoria box office 10 a.m. today.

Charles George's ray and scintillating revue hits a fast clip from the rise of the curtain and gains in momentum until the finale. It is unfolded in seventeen scenes, and is overflowing with jazz, outstanding melodies, novel dance ensembles, bewildering electrical effects and a rapid change of costume and scene is bewildering in its frequency. Barbara Bronell, nationally known dancer and star, heads the array of musical comedy entertainers. Miss Bronell will present no less than fifteen luscious interpretations, including "Russian Sarah," "Honolulu Lou," "The Spanish Dancer," "Highland Mary," and will lead her big ballet in many fast-stepping ensembles. She is surrounded by a group of the liveliest, danciest chorus of fresh and lovely girls ever brought to Victoria. The show is a big one, wherein the settings and costumes, the color, music and lighting, the groupings and police blend in wonderful harmonies.

"Are you any good at teaching ladies to swim?" "I should rather think so!" "Then I wonder if you'd mind giving my mother a few lessons?"

COLUMBIA Rod La Rocque scored THEATRE another hit in his latest star picture, "Gigolo," which was shown with emphatic success at the Columbia Theatre yesterday. This is the story of an American aviator in the war, whose face is rebuilt through plastic surgery and who becomes a gigolo, or dancing man in cafes, to earn a livelihood. When his boyhood sweetheart appears and dances with him without recognizing him, things begin to happen. The story is thrilling and appealing. Mr. La Rocque's portrayal of the gigolo is most artistic, and excellent support is rendered by Jobyna Ralston as the girl and Louise Dresser as the mother with a Paris complex. All in all "Gigolo," which is pronounced "Jee-go-lo," is one of the most entertaining pictures seen here in many months.

"Nova Scotia's future as a fisheries province is in her codfish," declared the speaker.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

For early Fall, a tweed coat is an essential. The material is light and warm and may be had in so many attractive colors and weaves that it is not difficult to understand the reason for its vogue. For fur trimmings, but for early Fall the model shown here without fur, seems much more desirable. The coat is of a soft tweed with straight lines and patch pockets. The tweed is tan, the brown velvet facing of the collar and revers, stitched with an thread, make an effective contrast.

OLD-TIMERS CALL ON NONAGENARIAN

Mrs. Charlotte Oille, of Vancouver, Wears Her Ninety-Three Years With a Youthful Charm

One of the West's most picturesque and well-loved figures is Mrs. Charlotte Oille, of Vancouver. On Monday she celebrated her ninety-third birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Banfield, Hute Street. The reception was largely attended, and many "old-timers" took the opportunity of extending their heartfelt congratulations to Mrs. Oille, who is "over ninety years young."

Mrs. Banfield and her sister, Mrs. J. S. Campbell, of St. Catharines, Ont., welcomed the visitors, and the tea table was presided over by Mrs. Gilbert Hall, Mrs. W. A. Clark, Mrs. Alfred Thomson and Mrs. Willard Kitchen. Assisting were Mrs. W. Orson Banfield, Mrs. A. C. Black and Mrs. Alfreda Thomson.

Mrs. Charlotte Oille is a most exceptional woman, for she wears her years with a charm that more than belies the legends that may have accumulated during her span of life to this time when she retains a remarkable brightness and a keen, quick perception. Her snowy white hair is usually hidden by a most becoming frilled cap, her eyes are blue, and bright and eager, looking, as it were, forward to the adventures that life holds for her rather than dreaming and "thinking back" on the days that have passed. She takes a keen interest in women's organizations, and attends many meetings.

One of the prettiest little stories told of Mrs. Oille is that of a "cheon" given at the Hotel Vancouver in honor of Viscount Allenby and Lady Allenby in March, 1926. Attired in a quaint black bonnet and silk shawl, Mrs. Oille was one of the most interesting listeners when the distinguished visitor was relating stories to the assembly. Following luncheon, Viscount Allenby said that he wished to meet Mrs. Oille. When asked who she was, Mrs. Oille replied in most characteristic manner: "Well, I am a great-grandmother of you all. I have been through the Crimean and down through the Boer and Great Wars, but never have I been afforded greater pleasure than the honor of knowing such a war hero as yourself."

"And I feel honored in meeting you and knowing of the wonderful things you have done for the Empire," replied Lord Allenby. Mrs. Oille belongs to sturdy stock who have done much for their country. It was her grandfather who engineered the building of the Welland Canal, and it was he who sheltered many an escaped slave from the South. Mrs. Oille's conversation is occasionally marked by the use of a southern expression, this was due to the fact that as a child she was cared for by a darky mammy.

Her early life was spent in Eastern Canada, and her childhood days passed in Brantford, Ont., where she met and was a friend of Pauline Hanson, the Indian poetess. When the I.O.D.E. inaugurated a Jaunie Johnson Chapter in Vancouver, Mrs. Oille was one of its charter members. To aid the fund of this chapter she has made many wondrous garments, scarfs, and a quantity of needlework, all within the last few years. She has long tapering fingers, and her work is exquisitely fine, and beautifully executed.

And beyond all this Mrs. Oille possesses the happy faculty of passing the autumn of her life with the joy which must surely have illumined her carefree days some seventy odd years ago.

Nearly 7,000,000 square yards of carpets and rugs were sent from Great Britain in other parts of the world in the past year.

ating, when Miss Lillian Beatrice, youngest daughter of the late Mr. Jerry Griffiths and of Mrs. Griffiths, Mackenzie Avenue, Victoria, became the bride of Mr. Percy Ferdinand Horton, of Nelson, B.C., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Horton, of Nelson.

The bride is a native daughter of British Columbia, and her mother, who was born in Australia, came to Victoria as a child of thirteen in 1856.

Given in marriage by her brother, Dr. E. H. Griffiths, the bride wore a lovely gown of reseda green georgette, fashioned with a long waist and flared skirt, having at the left side of the bodice a cascade of champagne and reseda georgette, while touches of the light georgette were introduced as trimmings to the cuffs and collar of the frock. With this she wore a hat to match in color, made of French felt and faced with velvet, and having as adornment in front a butterfly woven of silver thread rhinestones.

For traveling the bride wore over this costume a cloak of mole duvetyn with shawl collar of moleskin and long cuffs of the same fur.

Mrs. E. H. Griffiths was matron of honor and wore a gown of orchid flat crepe, made with the prevailing long waist and accordion-pleated skirt, and having at the waist line a buckle of mother-of-pearl and rhinestones. Her hat to match was of crinoline and taffeta with embroidered flower in pastel shades.

The bride carried a sheaf of Ophelia roses and the matron of honor wore a corsage of baby roses.

Following the service at the Cathedral, the guests assembled at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Griffiths, Oscar Street, for tea, the table being covered with a handsome Italian cloth of embroidery and shadow file lace and centred with a silver basket surrounded with a large bow of pink tulle and filled with gladioli in two shades of pink.

Mr. and Mrs. Horton left on the afternoon boat for Seattle. Later they will spend some time in Nelson prior to spending the Winter months in California.

FROLIC WILL BE HELD TOMORROW

United Commercial Travelers Will Be Host to Victorians in Unique Evening's Entertainment

Tomorrow night is the big night for Victorians, the night of the monster frolic which is being staged by the United Commercial Travelers. The Crystal Garden and the Royal Victoria Theatre are being brought into use in order to accommodate the many whom it is anticipated will attend. There has been a steady demand for tickets, with the last-minute rush very noticeable. Those who have failed to secure their tickets can do so at the Royal Victoria Theatre box office today from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and from 6:30 p.m. on the night of the frolic.

On account of the limited seating accommodation at the Royal Victoria Theatre, patrons are advised to be seated for the commencement of each show. Those attending the first performance are requested to leave immediately following the conclusion of the programme in order to give others the opportunity of meeting the artists from KOMO. This is the first appearance of these stars in the city, and may be the last. Sydney Dixon, one of the KOMO artists who will appear on the programme, is probably the most popular lyric tenor in the Northwest. He has an extremely pleasing voice and his interpretations of Indian lyrics, particularly those of Laurence and Homer Grun, place him in a class entirely by himself among all American singers.

The first show will start at 7:30 p.m. and the second at 9 p.m. Every ticket holder will have the privilege of attending the vaudeville show in addition to the dance at the Crystal Garden.

The show will be one of the finest of its kind ever brought to the city, while with three first-class orchestras providing the music at the Crystal Garden, the dance performance is likely to break all records. Doors will open at the Royal Victoria Theatre at 7 p.m. and at the Crystal Garden at 8 p.m. The show will be from 9 to 11, and swimming from 8 to 11.

RUSSIAN BALLET DANCING SCHOOL WILL OPEN SOON

Lovers of the dance will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Dorothy Wilson has returned to Victoria and in order to better accommodate her school, and prepare for enlargement, has taken over the entire third floor of the Hambley Building, at Government and Broughton Streets. Associated with her will be Nicholas Rusanoff, formerly with the Imperial Russian Ballet, Moscow, and of New York, London and Paris. Nicholas Rusanoff has just closed his Summer School for Teachers of the Pacific Coast, held in Vancouver, B.C., and after a careful survey of conditions in Victoria, has decided to associate himself with Mrs. Wilson in the new school, which will be known as the Russian Ballet School of Dancing.

NEW DOUKHOBOR HEAD DUE SHORTLY

NELSON, Sept. 13.—Officials of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood are understood to have received a message from the Cunard Company stating that Peter Veregin, the younger, from Russia, will arrive at New York September 16. NEW PULP MILL IN OPERATION

Operation of the new pulp mill of the Sidney Roofing Company on the Industrial reserve is now in full swing. In the mill hemlock, spruce and balsam are converted into pulp for the manufacture of certain grades of building paper and box boards. The raw material is obtained from the forests of the southern end of the island and is conveyed to the mill principally by motor truck. In the mill itself from seven to ten workmen find employment.

In recognition of her invaluable services to the club, her generosity and never-failing assistance with the society's musical programmes and entertainments, Mrs. P. J. Jaffray was presented with a beautifully framed illuminated address. Mr. Hosie making the presentation amid the whole-hearted applause of the members.

Mrs. A. G. Christie and ladies of the club had arranged refreshments for the occasion, and again the position of social convenor was accepted by Mrs. Christie. Miss Hosie and Mrs. G. C. Grant were appointed to carry on their flower service for members of the club who are ill, which services have been greatly appreciated in the past.

Pipe-Major Cameron was re-elected to office of club slipper for another year, and Mr. H. W. Cochran re-elected club bard. During the meeting, Mr. Cochran recited a number of his very appropriate verses.

SHIRLEY The Girl Who Leaped Into Life

By NANCY BARR MAVITY

CHAPTER L

Justin braced himself for the interview as the hardest thing he had ever had to face. He thought, as the elevator bore him upward, that a firing squad would be a lesser ordeal. But he had to go through with it—he owed that much to Adela. All sense of personal injury had been swept from him. After all, they had loved once; if they had made a wreck of it, it was his fault. He would fix the blame. Given their two selves, his as well as hers, it could not be otherwise. He knew that if he had to live with Adela again, he would soon lose this clarity of view, would be once again straining to clear a little space about himself in the turmoil of which she surrounded him. But he didn't have to live with her again—that was over. He felt only a sympathy for the two misguided lives, and a real interest in her welfare. Perhaps she would be happy again—perhaps someone else would be able to stand at as he hadn't been; someone stronger, weaker, or just different, who could tell. But he must not cut her quite adrift. She must know from his own lips that he wished her well, would do what he could for her.

"You—you dare to come here?" Adela, tall, beautiful, ravaged, met him at the door. Perhaps after all she was not to be cheated of her moment.

"Well, you said I might." Justin had no difficulty in keeping his temper now. He was free. There was no need of anger. He sat down, and, after a mo-financial settlement we have made for any reason becomes unsatisfactory, we can rearrange it."

"Plans?" she echoed blankly. "Plans? So even anti-climax had a future! What could there be after this? She clutched at a fragment of her old bitterness. "I suppose your plans are clear enough. You have tricked me into this, and now you will marry that girl you took abroad with you." It was quite true—she felt that she had been tricked, ignominiously hoaxed.

Justin's hands tightened on the arms of his chair, but he continued to look at her with that clear, kindly, disinterested gaze. It was intolerable that he should take it like this—that he should not suffer. "No," he said. "Of course I cannot answer for the distant future, but I think it highly improbable that I shall ever marry again. If that brings you any comfort, I am very glad for you to have it."

"Comfort! I don't want comfort!" Everything had failed, the world had failed her as Justin had failed her. He was free, free and unscathed. She, the innocent one, whose only fault had been to love too greatly, was the only one to suffer. And not even to suffer! What was there left for her, what chance of suffering even? She could bare her breast to pain, but there was only futility, emptiness. Here was not even torment, not even hate. Her mouth was dry. Ashes, that was it. Dust and ashes. But there might be one thing more that she could do, one way to reach him, to pierce him.

"Plans?" she reiterated. "You have done this to me and you ask for my plans. You don't even see what you've done. Perhaps," she added in a strangled voice, "perhaps my best plan would be to kill myself. There's nothing left to live for that I can see. And perhaps—then—you'd know. Or maybe you wouldn't care." Looking at her writhing fingers, her tortured eyes, Justin saw that she was quite capable of carrying out her threat, seeking the last intensity of experience in death, putting upon him that final pressure of feeling, an appeal whose success or failure she would not be there to witness. He felt suddenly cold. In a very real sense a human life was in his hands. Whether Adela crossed the borderline dividing voluntary action from uncontrollable impulse depended on his answer to his words. The responsibility was intolerable—and yet it must be met. His mind shuttled to and fro among a dozen possible appeals and arguments. Then he laid all his trust upon the truth.

"I think you would be very foolish, Adela," he said. "You have everything to live for that anyone else has. We have to accept life's terms—it doesn't come to ours. But when you ask if I would 'care' in the sense I know you mean—moved to remorse, or wild regret, or anything like that—well, frankly, I wouldn't."

He would not have been in the least surprised at that moment if she had struck him, had seized a paper knife and driven it into his heart. He knew that what he had said was brutal. But she only shrank back into her chair.

She would not kill herself now—what would be the use? And for the first time reality laid its iron grip upon her. It had happened. It was over. Justin was gone out of her life forever. Dust and ashes—and failure. But somewhere, far beneath the levels of her conscious thought, stirred the beginnings of a new life. After all she was beautiful. She was so rich as to be without any of the financial restrictions which handicapped the ma-

British Demand for Our Products Grows

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—A remarkable and increasing demand for Canadian food products in Great Britain is reported by Major G. B. Johnson, Canadian Government trade commissioner for Glasgow, who is visiting in the Dominion for a few weeks. Major Johnson points out that since the depression following the post-war boom, export trade from Canada to the United Kingdom has shown a very marked increase and that various Canadian products which in past years were conspicuous by their absence on the British markets are now in very large demand.

International trade in wireless apparatus last year totaled $30,000,000.

Yankees Capture American League Gonfalon Handily

Babe Ruth Leads New Yorkers' Attack With Two Homers for Double Victory Over Cleveland and Gives Teammates Second Championship in Row—Buffalo Wins International

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Babe Ruth's fifty-first and fifty-second home runs today against Cleveland brought the Bambino seven swats ahead of Lou Gehrig, his closest rival, and seemed to assure him the long-distance hitting championship of the majors for the season, barring a highly improbable rally by Gehrig. With the season's final play nearly three weeks away, Ruth is only seven home runs away from his record mark established in 1921.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—With the American League pennant now in the possession of the Yankees for the second year in succession, baseball's spotlight has focused on the final drive for the National League gonfalon, with three teams still in the running and the Chicago Cubs having an outside chance to come through.

GAIN FULL GAME
By winning a double-header today, the Pittsburgh Pirates gained a full game on the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Giants, who remained in a tie for second place by splitting their double attraction. The Pittsburgh club is three full games to the good in first place. Chicago's loss today removed the Bruins back to a point five games behind the leaders.

The standing:
W. L. Pct.
Pittsburgh 81 53 .605
St. Louis 78 56 .582
New York 78 58
Chicago 78 60 .565

CANT BEAT OUT YANKS
The Yanks can lose every one of their remaining fifteen games and finish ahead of Philadelphia in the American League pennant today beyond all mathematical doubt with a double victory over Cleveland, each by a score of 6-3.

Babe Ruth, clubbing out one home run in each game to bring his season's total up to fifty-two, led the attack that definitely assured the Yankees their second straight championship and fifth in seven years under the management of Miller Huggins.

First game—R. H. E.
Cleveland 3 8 0
New York 6 12 1
Batteries—Hudlin and R. Sewell; Phipps and Bengough.

Boston Takes Brace
BOSTON, Sept. 13.—Boston came from behind ends of a double-header today to defeat the Red Sox 5-4 in thirteen innings and then 3 to 2. The deciding issues in the first game were Carley's triple and Shaner's double in the thirteenth inning. Double triple in the eighth inning of the second game, followed by Pinch Hitter Tobin's successful squeeze play, broke the 2-2 tie and gave the Red Sox their clean-up for the day.

First game—R. H. E.
St. Louis 4 10 2
Boston 3 9 0
Batteries—Jond and Schang; Russell, McPayden and Hoffman, Moore.
Second game—R. H. E.
St. Louis 2 0 1
Boston 3 7 1
Batteries—Vangilder and Dixon; Willis and Harley.

Timely Bingles Count
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Timely hitting gave the Senators a double victory over the Tigers, who dropped the second game of a double-header, 5 to 3, after losing the first, 2-0. A rookie pitcher, Billings, got credit for the first victory. Lisencbe, pitching his initial year for Washington, was credited with winning the second game.

These Athletics Sluggers
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—The Athletics slugged the offerings of Connally and Jacobs for nineteen hits today and trounced the Chicago White Sox by 15-5. Ty Cobb hit two doubles and a pair of singles and Joe Boley cracked a single, double and triple out of four trips to the plate. Although Lefty Grove was forced to retire in favor of Rube Walberg in the sixth, he was given credit for the victory.

First game—R. H. E.
Detroit 3 9 1
Philadelphia 15 19 0
Batteries—Connally and Jacobs; Cole and Crouse; Grove, Walberg and Cochran, Perkins.
Second game—R. H. E.

Philadelphia 15 19 0
Batteries—Connally and Jacobs; Cole and Crouse; Grove, Walberg and Cochran, Perkins.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 13.—Timely hitting and effective pitching gave Pittsburgh both ends of a double-header against Boston today, and enabled the Pirates to maintain their lead over the rest of the field in the National League pennant race.

Lou Meadows turned in his eighteenth triumph of the year in the opener, 6-1, while Vic Aldridge got the decision in the second, 5 to 4. The Pirates routed their persistent nemesis, the Kent Greenfield, in the first game, driving the former Giant from the box at the close of

COAST LEAGUE
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13.—The Hollywood Stars took the series opener from San Francisco, 3 to 2, today. Bud Teichert gaining a decision over Earl Kups in a hurling duel. Teichert held the Stars to five hits until the ninth inning, when he weakened. Mulcahy, who replaced him, checked a Seal rally one run short of a tie. Johnny Frederick accounted for two of the Stars' runs, when he hit a home run over the right field screen with one on in the fourth. The third and winning run came in the seventh, when three singles were bunched.

San Francisco R. H. E.
Hollywood 3 5 1
Batteries—Kunz and McCrear; Teichert, Mulcahy and Agnew.

A Wild Time
PORTLAND, Sept. 13.—The Oaks and Portland put on a wild battle today, Portland finally noosing out, 11 to 10, after the Oaks had scored eight runs in the last two innings. The Oaks batted out seven runs in the eighth, including homers by Larry and Arlett, and made another in the ninth. They had runners on third and first with two out, but Bill Hughes, the third Portland pitcher, ended it dramatically by striking out Leonard Metz, a pinch hitter.

Jimmy De Forest Scoffs at Luxury of Champion's Camp

"Soft, I'll Say," His Comment as He Draws Contrast With Old Days—Man Can't Get Into Best Shape for Battle Without Toughening Process of Hard Training

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—This is certainly the "soft" era in boxing. Take Gene Tunney's living quarters in the Cedar Crest Country Club at Lake Villa. Sumptuous! Soft!

Can you imagine in your wildest dreams what John L. Sullivan, Bob Fitzsimmons or any of the old-time champions would have said of these palatial "training quarters"?

"You can't get tough in lah-de-dah surroundings," Sullivan once said, and he spoke with a knowledge of the matter. He was a tough, powerful fighter who would not have been in the Dempsey-Tunney fight today to cope with him, even over the short ten-round route.

But Tunney is not putting in any hard, strenuous efforts. He's training to be sure, and he's getting into excellent physical condition, certainly, but he is not whittling himself into the tough, hard, rugged fighter who could withstand Dempsey's hardest blows and smite back until the older man would be forced to crumple.

No, Tunney is doing just as he announced he would do—he's training to be a champion. He's training to be a champion, and if he wins, he'll be a champion. He's training to be a champion, and if he wins, he'll be a champion.

MUCH TO DO OVER CUT
Here, a week or so ago, Tunney got bumped over the right eye by Chuck Wiggins in one of his training bouts. He's training to be a champion, and if he wins, he'll be a champion.

When Jack Dempsey passes it looks as if the fight game would lose the last of the romantic, blood-thirsty type of boxing.

Now nobody is happier to see the boxing game rise to a genteel level than I am. But I contend that you cannot get a fighter into the best fighting condition unless you put him through a siege of hard training, and make him live in a manner that will toughen him.

If you have two fairly-tough, experienced men and seasoned in this manner, you get a real battle when they clash. That is what made the fight game what it is today.

But it is my opinion that the more the fight game flourishes the nearer it approaches a decline. It is getting away from fighting, coming closer to boxing. It's losing its romantic appeal and developing into a parlor game.

NEED A LITTLE ROUGHING
I am not trying to moralize. I'm merely pointing out the difference between the training methods of today and those of old. Both Dempsey and Tunney would be better fighters if they roughed it a bit more, and accustomed themselves to hardships rather than live in ease and luxury even while training. They're not building stamina this way.

There is an excuse for Dempsey taking these "rests" in his training. Jack is comparatively old for a fighter. But I can't say I can excuse Tunney's lay-offs. Gene is young, strong and well able to stand the gaff of real training. He has a big advantage over Dempsey in this, because a siege of real tough work would put him in such fine, powerful condition there would be no chance for the Dempsey today to cope with him, even over the short ten-round route.

But Tunney is not putting in any hard, strenuous efforts. He's training to be sure, and he's getting into excellent physical condition, certainly, but he is not whittling himself into the tough, hard, rugged fighter who could withstand Dempsey's hardest blows and smite back until the older man would be forced to crumple.

No, Tunney is doing just as he announced he would do—he's training to be a champion. He's training to be a champion, and if he wins, he'll be a champion. He's training to be a champion, and if he wins, he'll be a champion.

NEED A LITTLE ROUGHING
I am not trying to moralize. I'm merely pointing out the difference between the training methods of today and those of old. Both Dempsey and Tunney would be better fighters if they roughed it a bit more, and accustomed themselves to hardships rather than live in ease and luxury even while training. They're not building stamina this way.

There is an excuse for Dempsey taking these "rests" in his training. Jack is comparatively old for a fighter. But I can't say I can excuse Tunney's lay-offs. Gene is young, strong and well able to stand the gaff of real training. He has a big advantage over Dempsey in this, because a siege of real tough work would put him in such fine, powerful condition there would be no chance for the Dempsey today to cope with him, even over the short ten-round route.

But Tunney is not putting in any hard, strenuous efforts. He's training to be sure, and he's getting into excellent physical condition, certainly, but he is not whittling himself into the tough, hard, rugged fighter who could withstand Dempsey's hardest blows and smite back until the older man would be forced to crumple.

No, Tunney is doing just as he announced he would do—he's training to be a champion. He's training to be a champion, and if he wins, he'll be a champion. He's training to be a champion, and if he wins, he'll be a champion.

HARRY JONES MEDALIST AT JASPER PARK

Leads Qualifying Round of Totem Pole Golf Competition in Alberta With 81 Strokes

WINNER PLAYS
STEADY GAME

Seventy-Two Players Enter Qualifying Round—Sixteen Qualify and Will Tee Off Today in First Flight

JASPER PARK LODGE, Alta., Sept. 13.—Playing very steady golf under somewhat trying weather conditions, Harry A. Jones, Shaughnessy Heights Club, Vancouver, won the medal in the qualifying round of the Totem Pole trophy competition held over the Jasper Park Lodge course today.

His score of 81 for the eighteen holes, of what is admittedly one of the trickiest courses on the continent, was a good exhibition of golf, as a penetrating drizzle was falling throughout the day.

Noel Jones, brother of the winner, was second and required to make only five on the seventeenth and eighteenth greens to win the medal. But on both holes he was unfortunate in his putting and finished with a score of 82.

MEDALIST'S SCORE
The card of the medalist was as follows:
Out—5 6 5 3 4 4 3 4—38
In—8 5 4 5 3 3 4 4—41
The card of Noel Jones was as follows:
Out—4 5 5 3 7 4 3 4—39
In—5 4 4 5 4 5 6 6—43

Seventy-two players entered the qualifying round and sixteen qualified for the first flight which will start tomorrow.

SHARKEY TO FACE VICTOR OF SEPT. 22

1928 Heavyweight Title Battle May Be Staged in the Wembley Stadium in London, Rickard Says

BRIBE REPORT IS STOUTLY DENIED

Promoter May Erect a Bigger Madison Square
Square Garden in Chicago
for Various Sports

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—While Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney are enjoying a lull in their training today, Tex Rickard and G. F. Getz, his assistant in the promotion of the battle of "madness" and "disrespect" in soldiers' field, September 22, were completing last-minute details of the fight.

The last legal barrier was hurdled after Tunney and Dempsey survived the State Athletic Commission's investigation. Getz has been granted a license as legal promoter and accepted the forfeits posted in behalf of Tunney and Dempsey.

Getz placed in the hands of the commission an insurance policy for $100,000 to protect the public in case of accidents within the arena.

BOTH UNDER CONTRACT
Rickard made the announcement that both Tunney and Dempsey were under contract to fight under his direction in 1928; that the winner would be matched to fight Jack Sharkey in London.

The 1928 championship battle, Rickard said, may be decided in the Wembley Stadium in London. He said he had received offers from a London promoter, whose name he declined to reveal, guaranteeing him $50,000 for the purpose of playing the "reasonable profit" on the venture.

Rickard said he and Getz were considering the erection of a bigger and better Madison Square Garden in Chicago for boxing, hockey and other sports.

Fifty-three special trains and more than 200 extra passenger coaches attached to regular trains will bring 50,000 fight fans here, a canvass of railroad officials reveals.

LAKE VILLA, Ill., Sept. 13.—Another day of complete rest, except for a golf, was Gene Tunney's programme today. Work in the present hot weather would be too likely to develop stalemate, Manager Billy Gibson said.

There will be only two or three days of rest, because of the long hours of the fight, because the condition of the ring is in the best condition of his ring career now.

A day of rest yesterday sent the heavyweight champion on a long automobile ride all by himself in an effort to keep cool, with the thermometer hovering around ninety-two.

Before he left, Gene took pains to deny that he had ever heard of "the ridiculous and laughable report" that an effort had been made to bribe him with a million dollars to throw the championship battle with Jack Dempsey, September 22.

"Such stories appear before every fight," said Gene. "This one makes me feel that I am a man of every resource, every courage, every strength into the match with Dempsey. I believe I will knock him out."

Manager Billy Gibson had some denying to do also. He said he had never heard anything of a suit supposed to have been filed against Tunney by Philadelphia, the champion, for a million-dollar fight with Dempsey.

St. Louis, Sept. 13.—Bob McGraw, Cardinal pitcher, who balked at being sent to Philadelphia via valise, will be kept the remainder of the season, President Sam Breadon of the Cardinals, announced today.

Breadon said he had decided it was "perhaps a bit unfair" to send McGraw to a club with no hopes of World Series money at a time when the Cardinals seem sure to gain some kind of a paving position.

Tony Kaufmann, obtained under waivers from Philadelphia, is with the Cardinals and working out daily until his status is determined under new waivers ordered by President John Heydler last week.

Changes in Team
Are Strengthening

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The two changes effected in the British international polo team apparently have strengthened the invading forces for the second game against the United States tomorrow. In yesterday's practice match the challengers beat a picked team of three Americans and one Briton.

The British won with their new line-up yesterday when Tony kicked through the final point in the eighth chukker. Both Captain Richard George and Captain John Denning, the replacements at Nos. 1 and 2 respectively, stood out at times in the British attack.

CURRY LEADS IN HIKING CONTEST

WENATCHEE, Wash., Sept. 13.—Leading his nearest competitor by about 140 miles, Harold Curry, of Canada, was on his return today to Boston in the annual Jay Gould Y.M.C.A. transcontinental hike for a $15,000 prize. Starting from Boston, the hikers swung through the Southern States and up to Vancouver, B.C. They may accept a $10,000 prize for the first automobile ride. Curry checked in here yesterday.

Fair Weather For Big Fight Is 3 to 1 Bet

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Fair weather for the night of the Dempsey-Tunney championship fight, September 22, is a 3-to-1 bet, records of the Chicago Weather Bureau indicate.

In the fifty-five years for which records have been kept here, it has rained on September 22 only fourteen times.

ALLEYS READY FOR OPENING

MAPLE SMASHERS TO RESUME
ACTIVITIES ON SATURDAY,
SEPTEMBER 17

Archie Allys Are All Dressed Up
For First Day—Bowling Making
Great Strides in City

The Archie Allys will be through their doors wide open at noon on Saturday, September 17 for the opening of the 1927-28 bowling season. During the summer months extensive alterations and improvements have been carried out, and today the local alleys compare favorably with any on the Pacific Coast.

Bowling will welcome this announcement for more reasons than one. With the opening of the season fond memories of the many close and interesting games of past years flash back to the minds of the everyday bowler. Then again to the man who is an unfrequent visitor to the scene of the maple smashers, his thoughts are cast to the days when he will rank among the leading bowlers of the city. His games, although perhaps not quite so keenly contested, constitute an enjoyable pastime for him.

Bowling is growing in leaps and bounds, and the various leagues are receiving new club members. The ladies, too, have taken enthusiastically to the game, and last season the ladies' league was an outstanding success.

Team managers are expected to be among the first to pay a visit to the renovated alleys on Saturday, not only for the purpose of playing the game, but for a chance of seeing how the boys look in their first efforts. Just who will roll the first ball is not finally decided, but it is rumored that many first class bowlers are already debating for the honor. Interested players and fans will watch the ball as it goes on its mission down the alley, a mission partly of destruction, and partly of good fortune. Everyone is quiet, eyes are fixed on the standing pins, they all wait for a crash, a strike has been rolled with the first ball.

Stribling, Diebel
Cleared of Charge
Of Framing Fight

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 13.—W. L. "Young" Stribling, Georgia boxer, and Leo Diebel, Oklahoma City fighter, did their best in a bout at Omaha last week, which was stopped in the sixth round as "no contest" by Referee Jimmy Drexel. Judge Lincoln Frost of the State Welfare Department decided today that Stribling injured his right hand when he floored Diebel, and that the Georgian had the option of not telling the referee of his injury and going ahead with the fight, and that he put up the best fight he could under the circumstances.

Judge Frost's decision clears the two men of charges of participating in a "fraudulent" fight and neither will be suspended in Nebraska.

Pitcher McGraw to Stay With Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13.—Bob McGraw, Cardinal pitcher, who balked at being sent to Philadelphia via valise, will be kept the remainder of the season, President Sam Breadon of the Cardinals, announced today.

Breadon said he had decided it was "perhaps a bit unfair" to send McGraw to a club with no hopes of World Series money at a time when the Cardinals seem sure to gain some kind of a paving position.

Tony Kaufmann, obtained under waivers from Philadelphia, is with the Cardinals and working out daily until his status is determined under new waivers ordered by President John Heydler last week.

Daring Base Stealing Would Improve Catcher

Backstops Would Be More Clever If They Were Better Base Runners, Says George Moriarty, Detroit Pilot

By GEORGE MORIARTY
(Manager of the Detroit Baseball Team, Former Big League Third Baseman, and for Ten Years an American League Umpire) (Copyright, 1927, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

I have always thought there would be more clever catchers if the backstops themselves were better base stealers and base runners. Silence through the batting records and you will discover that the catchers barely note out their battery mates, the pitchers, in the stolen base column. It has always been that way, but there is no particular reason why catchers should not be good base-runners.

True, many catchers are so heavy and clumsy that speed is out of the question, but it must also be remembered that some of the best base stealers in history would not make much of a showing in a hundred yard dash. In the "stretched" and the stolen one, trickiness and daring rather than speed of foot are the great essentials. A man does not necessarily have to be a Mercury to be a good base stealer.

My argument in regard to catchers is this: In every game the catcher is called upon to stop opposing base-runners, either by outguessing the opposition on hit and run signs, or nipping the runners on straight steals. This is entirely a battle of wits, and the clever base stealer holds the upper hand over the catcher.

A REASONABLE ASSUMPTION
Now, supposing the average catcher is called upon to stop opposing base-runners, either by outguessing the opposition on hit and run signs, or nipping the runners on straight steals. This is entirely a battle of wits, and the clever base stealer holds the upper hand over the catcher.

COLOMBO BOUND FOR CALIFORNIA

Captain Leckie and Officers Entertained at Comox by Local Board of Trade

Captain A. M. Leckie, D.S.O., commander of H.M.S. Colombo, and ship's officers were recently guests at a luncheon given in their honor by the Courtenay-Comox Board of Trade at Comox.

The commander said that one of the objects of their cruise was to "show the flag" and show that there was such a ship as a man-of-war afloat. There were only four ships on the West Indies station and they had a big area to cover and that was why they only saw them once a year. They had been 30,000 miles in the last year. They looked forward to coming up the Pacific Coast not only because they got such a wonderful welcome but to see the country. But the chief object of the cruise was to show people who were interested in them what a ship was like.

Capt. Leckie said they had on board the Colombo some Canadians born on the Prairies, who were interested in them because of their interest in the sea. They liked to have them because they could go back into the interior and tell their folk what a ship was like. They on the coast knew, and he wanted them also to tell the people of the interior about the navy. It had been a long trip.

COAL SITUATION TO BE EXAMINED

Port Alberni Outcrop Will Be Tested Again Adjacent Waterfront

Following closely upon the announcement of the proposed reopening of the Morden mine, near South Wellington, comes an intimation from Port Alberni that there is a project to secure land adjacent to the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway for the purpose of boring for coal.

Some years ago preliminary work was done, and a trial shaft sunk, in fact, as long ago as in 1911 and 1912 visitors to the city were usually taken to see the outcrop along the railway cutting.

It is understood an expert will look over the project at an early date.
